

INSURANCE GENT GIVES HIS ENDORSEMENT

Mr. Luther Rothwell Finds Relief in MENDOL. He Only Had to Take Two Bottles of MENDOL.

"There is no doubt that MENDOL is the best medicine ever put up by any one man, or firm, or corporation," said Mr. Rothwell, the popular and prominent young man, who is employed by the insurance agency in Chattanooga, Tenn. "Anybody that will take one bottle of MENDOL will find out that it is a medicine without any equal," continued Mr. Rothwell, "because it does the work in a short time."

"Before I began taking MENDOL I suffered from biliousness and stomach troubles. I had a very poor appetite. What I ate I did not digest with me. I felt nervous and drowsy all the time. At nights I could not sleep sound, and I felt bad all over. While I was in such a helpless condition, and had tried everything I knew of without getting any good results, I made up my mind to try MENDOL, thinking that if MENDOL can help so many people, it can also help me. So I went and bought me a bottle. To my surprise, by the time I finished my first bottle I felt like an entirely different person. How that one bottle helped me so wonderfully I cannot say. In such a short time I knew that this had been a puzzle to me. But anyhow it actually did the work for me. I went and bought one more bottle, and when I got through with it I did not have to take any more, because I was all well."

"This medicine relieved me of my biliousness. It cured my stomach troubles. It restored my appetite. I don't feel nervous and drowsy any more. When I go to bed I sleep as sound as anybody. In the mornings I get up all refreshed and strong, and am glad to begin my day's work. 'In my estimation, a medicine like this is worth its weight in gold. I am convinced that this medicine will help anybody. I will always recommend it very highly.'"

"Noticing a great change in me, my mother started taking it, and don't you know it helped her wonderfully. She has a good word for MENDOL, and she is going to tell through the paper the good MENDOL did her."

"When it comes to trying medicine, I am a little skeptical as anyone can be, and I was skeptical about trying MENDOL. But hearing and reading of so many people endorsing MENDOL, I felt for it, I tried it; and I am very glad I did try it, because it did more good to me than any medicine I ever heard of, or tried. People can never praise this medicine too much. I am only too glad to give my endorsement about MENDOL."

SALTS FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS

We eat too much meat, which clogs kidneys, then the Back hurts.

Most folks forget that the kidneys like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or twinge in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble. (Adv.)

BAD ROADS BLOCK TRAVEL TO VALLEY COTTON COMING BACK INTO ITS OWN.

Early Wheat in Good Condition—Hamilton Shows Her Progressive Ways.

Transportation from Chattanooga to two of the best towns around it is partially blocked by a section of bad roads—to Cleveland and South Pittsburg. Marion county is repaired its part of the Rankin Ferry road, but that section which passes through Rade county, Georgia, is in a bad shape. The Sequatchie valley is strictly Chattanooga territory, and the travel is heavy. A part of the Cleveland-Chattanooga pike in Bradley county has been left in bad shape from the winter, heavily roading traffic in wet weather.

Misleading Signs.
A stranger driving into Chattanooga over one of its splendid pikes began to notice the signboards to learn the distance had yet to go. One sign for miles to Chattanooga; about a half-mile further on another read five miles to Chattanooga. He stopped to see if it was running backward, but upon inquiry found that he was on the right track, heading in the right direction and only the signboards bore conflicting kilometers.

King Cotton.
When cotton began playing around the 30-cent mark last week long trains of wagons loaded with the fleecy staple began pouring into the town of north Georgia and Alabama, disclosing the fact that large quantities were yet in the hands of those who produced it. Only enough was sold at the first of the season to allow the farmers to "square up" cotton is having competitors for his job as king, but when he reaches 20 cents he is greeted with the slogan, "Long live the king."

The which discloses another fact contrary to general belief. When cotton began hitting the bottom soon after the armistice was signed, it was concluded that the way to hold cotton on its throne was to regulate its production to conform with the immediate demand—in consequence of which a campaign of education was carried out to the effect that the acreage be reduced by 15 per cent, and food and forage crops be increased. "Everybody will grow less cotton this year; that will cause a better price, and I'll sleep over on them by growing more than ever and mop up while they all sleep." But the trouble of it is none of them would do the thing. The result is found to be that because of the campaign of education in acreage for a consequent better price for the staple, an immense acreage is planted and cotton is still king, though he may totter on his throne next fall from overproduction.

Cornein Hamilton.
"A cool May for wheat and a hot one for cotton" is the farmer's old adage. Evidently the weather is more than friendly to the wheat. The best years this section of the south ever saw. No heavy rain, no drought, nothing but a steady, even growing it. Early wheat is now in full head, with a good stand and a promise of a good yield. Just before it ripens is the only hazard that can now stay its perfect maturity.

Caught with Goods.
Two Alleged Robbers Caught in Chattanooga Held to Grand Jury. Jasper, May 19.—(Special.)—William Taylor and Edward Williams were arrested before W. J. Johnston to answer the charge of robbery of the stores of the Whitwell drug company and H. S. Lane Saturday night a week ago.

Both were bound over to the circuit court and committed to jail and have not to date given bond.

Some time during Saturday night the stores were entered. From the drug store were taken watches, jewelry, Kodaks. One of the burglars had a sweet tooth and took some candy to satisfy it. In the drygoods store of Lane complete outfit of men's furnishings were appropriated. The old clothes were left in the store. The merchandise taken amounted to several hundred dollars.

Sunday morning after the theft had been discovered, Dr. Lay heard of the men going across the mountain toward Chattanooga. He got in his car, and made the trip there and quickly got in touch with the police. In a few hours after arriving in the city the men were caught with the plunder on them.

The Williams boy is about 16 years old and recently escaped from the reform school. Those authorities agreed to leave him at home if he would be good. Taylor has been in several scrapes before and is at present under bond for his good behavior. The report goes that he was connected with the Lane & Havron robbery last summer. That case has not been tried.

TRUSSFREE!

Happy—Rupture Gone.

Are you neglecting yourself by wearing a truss, appliance, or whatever name you choose to call it? At best, the truss is only a makeshift—a false prop against a collapsing wall—and cannot be expected to act as more than a mere mechanical support.

The binding pressure retards blood circulation, thus robbing the weakened muscles of the support which they need most.

But science has found a way, and every truss sufferer in the land is invited to make a trial of the PLAPAO-PAD when adhering closely to the body cannot possibly slip or shift out of place. Therefore, cannot cause or pinch. So soft as velvet—easy to apply—inexpensive. To be used whilst you work and whilst you sleep.

Steam and Operating Engineers of New Bedford Go on Strike.

POPE INTERCEDES.

Rome, May 19.—(I. N. S. From Il Secolo, Milan, Cable.) Pope Benedict XV has ordered the papal nuncio at Monaco to proceed to Switzerland and act as intermediary between the pontiff and the German bishops who have appealed to his holiness to attempt to effect the cessation of hostilities.

According to later information secured by the Vatican correspondent of the Secolo, the pope in his reply to the German representations gave it to be understood that he will not intervene in behalf of any party to the conflict, but intends to confine his active interest in the conference only to developments affecting religious questions. This does not exclude the possibility, however, that the pontiff will take an early opportunity to reaffirm his desire for a cessation of hostilities.

FACULTY SELECTED

Board of Education of Marion Elects Jasper, May 19.—(Special.)—Announcements by the faculty of the Marion County High school assigns the members of the graduating class to their rooms for the night of May 23, to take place in the auditorium of the school. The announcement carries with it an invitation to the graduating class to their friends, requesting their presence on that evening.

The class colors are purple and white and the class flowers white roses. The class officers are Walter Wells, president; Muriel Schofield, vice-president; Phillips Wilson, secretary and treasurer.

The class roll is Margaret Bull, Alma Cowan, Elizabeth Deakins, Ruby Moore, Flora Moore, Jennie Moore, Muriel Schofield, Nancy Willis, Evelyn Wells, Joe Anderson, William Ables, Willie Jack Tate, Phillips Wilson and Walter Wells.

This school year has been full of perils for the faculty and discouragements for the student body. The influenza epidemic, at one time, seemed to be destined to destroy the season's work, insofar at least as it was necessary to meet the requirements of the state. The much sickness amongst the pupils hampered them seriously in their studies.

The faculty, however, utilized half the Saturdays and Sundays to make up lost time and the students being ambitious to finish the year with dignity, obeyed all orders for extra work and extra time, as did the boys in France, and have come out with a like prestige and honor, as the above class roll eloquently testifies.

"POLITICAL PIMPS," SAYS SENATOR FROM IDAHO

OF THOSE OPPOSED TO LEAGUE OF NATIONS.

Republicans Wrangle Among Themselves While Democrats Smile.

Washington, May 19.—(Special.)—People here are wondering if the progressive republicans are bluffing or if they really intend to carry their fight to the floor of the senate against Penrose and Warren.

Senator Borah, the boldest and most exciting of all the progressives of the dominant party, has been bitter in his denunciation of those republicans who have hesitated in their opposition to the league of nations, designating them as "political pimps," who were afraid to take a positive stand in their opposition. It is known that he has no views in common with Penrose and Warren on economic questions and that his convictions on prospective legislation are antagonistic to that of the old guard, but it is the contention of many of the republicans that the Idaho senator will surrender to the crowd he has called weak and cowardly. The democrats see much to amuse them over what they term a very embarrassing situation for the republicans, and all the while they are wondering if Senator Borah's convictions will be as potent in directing his course in the Penrose-Warren contest as he boasts of in the matter of the league of nations.

Senator Cummins' selection as president pro tem by the republican caucus was an easy victory for Senator Borah, who presented the Iowa senator for the place, but as one democrat expressed it, this does not satisfy the progressives, but it only whets their appetites and encourages them to force the fight and get recognition of the principles they espouse.

It is now said that six or possibly ten, progressives will fight to the last to secure the rejection of Penrose and Warren at the next and final conference, and it is claimed that at least six of them will carry their fight to the floor of the senate. These are Borah, Kenyon, Norris, McCormick, Jones, of Washington, and Johnson, of California. If they should stand out against the reactionaries the caucus recommendation would fail, as they perpetuate the vacancies in the finance and appropriations committees. It has been suggested that possibly a sufficient number of democrats could be induced to absent themselves from the senate to enable the dominant element of the republican forces in the senate to elect their caucus nominees but the republicans have little faith in this elusive proposition and the democrats say that their members of the senate can not be induced to become a determining factor in a factional fight of their opponents, and that the republicans will have to settle their quarrels in their own way.

The "sop" the Penrose-Warren crowd have thrown to the progressives in the selection of Senator Cummins as president pro tem is not regarded as sufficient to allay the opposition to reactionary domination and control of affairs, and it may be that a great deal more will have to be surrendered to the progressives before there can be a peaceful settlement of the differences. Of course the old guard republicans would run over the small minority in their party if they could successfully operate without them, but their votes will be needed in all they attempt to do, and the situation must be handled with great skill. If the progressives should be affronted and driven from the support of the old guard then the republican control of the senate would become a failure.

Though the republicans seem to be hopelessly divided on the important chairmanship fight, with the possibility that both Penrose and Warren may be relegated, there seems to be a unanimity of sentiment among the republican senators in their purpose to raise a multiplicity of objections to the league of nations. Since the warning has gone forth from their accepted leader to refrain from making public declarations on the accepted covenant most of the republican senators appear to have found something to object to in the covenant—they all seem to be prepared to ask that certain changes be made. While it has been denied that the republicans have sought to make the peace treaty a partisan question in the United States, it is now obvious that this is what the republicans are endeavoring to do. They are evidently preparing to bring on a bitter contest over ratification of the covenant to the end that they may have a larger part in its construction than it has been possible for them to have heretofore—all to the end that they may say "we did it."

To YOU Personally

I SUBMIT MY 4 YEARS OF SERVICE

IF YOU BELIEVE MY ADMINISTRATION HAS BEEN ONE OF EFFICIENCY AND PROGRESS THEN I AM ENTITLED TO YOUR CONSIDERATION.

This being the working season for the Department of Streets and Sewers I shall not be able to make a campaign.

In submitting my candidacy for City Commissioner, I do so with the consciousness that I have endeavored to administer the affairs of my department so as not to contribute to the burdens that all have of necessity had to assist in carrying. At the same time I have earnestly tried with the means at hand to give you an administration that would meet the approval of the splendid citizenship and keep pace with the deserved progress of our great city. Just how well I have succeeded is for you to say; and, with your permission, I will call your attention to some of the things accomplished during my administration.

Four years, without an increase in budget appropriation, I have opposed every effort to increase taxes, believing that the taxes were sufficient if the affairs of the city were properly administered.

Forty thousand dollars' worth of mechanical equipment bought with the savings due to economical measures in administration.

Four years without a lawsuit against the city on account of work of my department, due to proper precaution. Sixty thousand dollars in suits of this character were pending at the beginning of my administration.

More street work accomplished than by any former administration in the history of Chattanooga.

Market street paved with wood blocks, a necessary improvement vitally affecting the welfare of our city.

Broad street sewer extended through the N. C. & St. L. railway yards, completing the sewer system of the business center; should have been constructed years before.

Oak street, Long street, Whiteside street, Carter street and many others paved, reaching neglected portions of the city.

A modern incinerator installed for the disposal of dangerous garbage.

Splendid stable built for the city from the old street materials salvaged from old pavements, etc.

Miles of chert streets built at one-half former cost.

Warehouse and wharf constructed, with 50 per cent. of the appropriation still in the treasury.

Modern appropriation isles on Market street for the protection of those who use the street cars. The first city in the South to adopt these modern isles.

Sixteen hundred handsome street signs purchased and now being erected.

I submit without fear of contradiction that through my method of administration I have saved many thousands of dollars per annum to the city; that I have given you an honest, efficient administration of the affairs entrusted to me, and upon that record I base my claim for your support.

The Department of Streets and Sewers has not accomplished all that we desired nor all that you desired. We insist, however, that in the face of most abnormal conditions due to war we have accomplished more than any former administration.

Respectfully submitted,
E. D. BASS.
